- E. SESSION SUMMARY:

The target has to do with some sort of festive situation reminiscent of a celebration or parade. There are throngs of individuals which appear to flow back and forth. One group in particular is moving in a sinuous motion, weaving back and forth through the general masses.

There are loud noises, screaming and bright flashes. The setting is within a location where the buildings are old, rundown and "ethnic". There are several different smells: food cooking; a stale, pungent smell and one that stings. There is a lot of smoke or mist in localized places. There are bright colors, some of which appear iridescent and almost unnatural.
